FEEDLOT INDUSTRY COVID-19 COMMUNIQUE

COVID-19 – Guidance for an outbreak in the Feedlot workplace

On behalf of Bryce Camm, ALFA President, please click here to access ‘COVID-19 – Guidance for an outbreak in the Feedlot workplace’.

The Guide provides practical guidance for feedlots who may experience the unfortunate event of an outbreak amongst staff or suppliers on their feedlot.

It is vitally important that you prepare for potential disruptions to your workforce caused by COVID-19. Make sure you have a plan in place to manage a COVID-19 outbreak on your feedlot, including being able to access additional staff to cover essential business operations.

The Guide builds on a range of information tools that ALFA has made available directly to the feedlot community. This includes ‘COVID-19 – A Guide for Feedlots’, which is a comprehensive document providing checklists and templates developed to help prepare for, and manage, the impacts of the virus.

We encourage you to visit ALFA’s COVID-19 Resources webpage to view the range of resources available.
